BACKGROUND INFO:

No criminal background record on file. Grew up all her life in Seattle with her parents. Attended the University of Washington and obtained degree in Journalism. Worked for different reporting agencies for three years. The Agency contacted her for contact purposes in the west coast region and she accepted. She was offered an Agent position within the Agency after two years of service as a mission contact, and was assigned to surveillance duty for three months before she could be assigned to a bona fide mission. She died three days after she was assigned to monitor Dominic Romano on suspected narcotics manufacturing. The Agency has been investigating him every since but to no avail and no formal charges have been charged, due to lack of evidence. The Agency has anonymously taken care of all funeral arrangements and expenses.
