BACKGROUND INFO:

Grew up in China in an orphanage before being adopted by her American parents Gregory and Susan Dawson at the young age of two. Attended a private school where she excelled in many aspects of her adolescent life, especially in her academics and the field of sports, especially gymnastics. Served a short stay in the U.S. military where she was trained in multiple variations of hand-to-hand combat and infiltration techniques. Was later employed with the NSA for almost five years where she headed up some of the nations most covert operations in the late 1970's.

Was approached by the Agency for acquisition as an Agent, due to her high regard of special operations knowledge, loyalty and attention to detail. She accepted, but with one condition. After proving herself within the Agency as a field Agent, she would be considered as a candidate for a upper Agency position and later be able to oversee one of the Agency's foreign offices, if not the main Washington DC office. All terms have been accepted on both parties.

Even with her sense of innocent mannerisms and outward appearance, Agent Scarlet has been known to be somewhat ruthless and brutal in the completion of her assignments. Four charges of excessive use of force have been ruled inadmissible on her behalf by the Agency. Mandatory counseling and a psychological analysis were ordered in which she passed with flying colors. In 1995, she was promoted within the Agency and has been a handler ever since, in which she possesses a 100% complete status on all missions that were under her control. She has been transferred to oversee the Jakarta, Indonesia office in early 2008.
