BACKGROUND INFO:

Grew up in New York, NY with her father and mother where she became noticed rather early for her outer beauty and was guided into many modeling and/or acting opportunities by her parents. Went straight into a modeling career later in her life where she made a nice living and gained some popular notoriety within the model and fashion industry before a tragic vehicular accident ended the lives of her father and mother. The cause of the vehicle crash is still pending, but possible foul play has not been ruled out. Decided to leave the modeling industry behind for a more free spirited style of life where she became known as an intermediary connection or dealer of information to the highest bidder. Was involved and apprehended in 2007 by the Agency where she was acquitted of all charges and later negotiated her way into the Agency.
