BACKGROUND INFO:

Grew up in Providence, Rhode Island as an only child. Father works as a fisherman. Mother died when he was 5 years old. Excelled in biology, chemistry and computer programming in his early years. Received a full scholarship to the University of Massachusetts. Graduated third in his class with a Bachelor of Science degree and a double major in computer science and genetics. Has a brilliant mind and a vast knowledge of bypassing security and accessing most computer networks. Worked in the private sector for a gene replication and viral testing company for two years, where he was part of a project designing virtual reality biochemical gene replication hardware and software. Heterosexual, with many friends from work and social groups. Likes computer and Role Playing games. Has a passion for movies, especially Sci-Fi.

Criminal background record: Suspected of creating numerous computer viruses throughout the world that have infected top government agencies. Was apprehended for breaking into the United States government network database, where he dropped in a virus that froze all US presidential payroll accounts for three weeks, on a dare from his co-workers. Was found guilty on 57 counts of computer espionage and sentenced to a fifteen year prison term with no parole. He was offered a deal to work for the Agency as an agent if all charges were dropped and no prison time granted. He accepted. Since joining the Agency he has requested the most skill training of any active agent and has returned to college, finishing his doctorate in Biochemistry and Genetics. His final thesis was titled "Networking and the use of super-computers in biochemistry and genetic re-sequencing."

Founding member of Pandemonium, an underground internet-based organization whose known actions include corporate, government and industrial espionage and back-alley investigation based on conspiracy theory and a pursuit of the "truth." Still believed to keep ties to this organization and its members.
