BACKGROUND INFO:

Jonathan woke up in a car in Sedona, Arizona, on April 28, 2006. He was covered in blood, most of it not his own. Beside him on the passenger seat was a duffel bag loaded with more than $2 million in cash, and the body of an international spy was in the trunk. To date, Jonathan has no recollection of what happened before he awoke that night, but forces from another covert agency attacked him. Through the help of an Agency operative, codenamed Chief, he was able to elude capture.

Since then he has worked for the Agency, bringing his fluid martial arts skills to bear against any and all enemies. His style is unique, showing a complicated merging of many individual styles. He knows he has spent a lot of time in the southwest U.S., but more than that he cannot recall.

Agency profilers have estimated his age and other statistics. Agent Spinal prefers to travel in his own custom-made RV, touring the U.S. and surrounding countries when he is not on duty, hoping to spark a memory of his past.
