

MISSION: Boarder Line

AGENTS ASSIGNED:

Status: Closed

Ferret

Digger

DATE: 5/ 2/2008

Panther

Sliver

TIME: 12:30:00 PM

CONTACT INFORMATION:

FIRST NAME: N/A

LAST NAME: N/A

DATE: _____

TIME: _____

PLACE: N/A

MISSION BRIEFING:

As you know, illegal immigration into neighboring countries is a problem all over the world. One such country, Greece, has endured a mass migration of unemployed Albanians across its borders for many years. A new immigration bill will soon be voted on and possibly enacted in Greece, which will tighten its borders, limiting the passage of Albanians into Greece. This has caused quite a stir in that region as many protests and threats have been made against Greece if the bill passes. The Agency has intercepted a communication from a new rogue terror cell, which seems to be setting into motion some sort of plan against the Greek populous, in hopes of scaring the Greek Parliamentary Republic to vote down this new immigration bill. The intercepted rogue communication consisted only of four passenger cruise line confirmations aboard the Grecian cruise ship, The Odyssey, departing tomorrow morning from Athens at 10:00 AM. They were all purchased under the name, Ali Quintar. Your mission is to board The Odyssey cruise ship as tourists, and foil any plans that may threaten the lives of its passengers. Your presence must go unnoticed and your covers intact so as not to heighten tensions between these two countries.

MISSION DEBRIEFING:

Mission completed 7:45 pm on 5-04-08.
Agents made their way to Athens Greece where unbeknownced to them, were under surveillance themselves. After a couple meetings with the terror cell's minions, the team boarded the Odyssey cruise ship and set up head quarters, all the while gaining the trust of some key cruise ship personnel via Agent Sliver. A time-consuming computer hack by Agent Ferret into the ships main computer system provided the team with the room assignments of their intended targets. Gaining entrance into the terror cell's rooms, the Agents found a very brilliantly pixel encoded cipher on a laptop belonging to Bullar. Deciphering the code revealed a plan of assassination of passengers and dignitaries aboard the ship by a highly lethal poison known as Moxotricnine. Agents launched a plan to knock out power during the last day's supper and take out the threat, but were ambushed by the terror cell and one Mr. Preston, the ships event coordinator. A brutal and bloody melee and firefight broke out within the small cabin room where all terror cell members were eliminated. Mr. Preston committed suicide by ingesting a vial of Moxotricnine before he could be restrained. The team proceeded to cover their identities by fabricating a burglary story in which the entire crew accepted as truth and were free and clear of any allegations.