MISSION BRIEFING:

Samuel Stenner, AKA Agent Savior, has brought in Agency help to locate his son, who disappeared while traveling through a small town in New Mexico. Savior believes it was the work of a cult he was researching in the area. He cannot go in himself, fearing that action would be taken against his son.

Your mission is to gain access to the newly-rebuilt church in Salem, NM and verify Agent Savior's findings that a cult is at work, and if the agent's son is imprisoned there.

Meet Agent Savior in the small town of Radium Springs, NM, about 15 miles south of Salem. He will brief you further. Good luck, agents.

MISSION DEBRIEFING:

Agents contacted Agent Savior, gaining insight into the possible cult abduction of his son. Using a split strategy of computer background checks and solicitation of law enforcement help, agents uncovered several black-market dealings and land purchases in and around Salem, NM, as well as floor plans to the church.

An infiltration of the church ended in the suspected presence of an airborne brainwashing drug, as well as a large monetary donation. Suspected cult followers attacked the agents, causing several injuries and personal vehicle damages.

Agents successfully captured one mastermind and rescued the son of Agent Savior, but not before valuable agent identities were gleaned from him. A German scientist eluded capture, taking with him undercover agents' personal information. Whereabouts are currently unknown.

Thanks to the efforts of the team, Agent Savior's son was returned safely, and the cult operating out of the church was silenced permanently.
