

MISSION: Judgment Day

AGENTS ASSIGNED:

Status: Cold Case

Stavros

Scorch

DATE: 2/20/2010

Exantose

Frosty

TIME: 11:56:00 PM

Kestral

Talisker

CONTACT INFORMATION:

FIRST NAME: Hutomo

LAST NAME: Soedarjo

DATE: 2/21/2010

TIME: 1:30:00 AM

PLACE: Kusuma Airport - Jakarta, Indonesia

MISSION BRIEFING:

The Agency has just learned from the Sacred Heart mission that Giovanni Sepe, the leader of the Angels of Light organization, had sent three packages containing bombs to three very public organizations. No casualties ensued as all three bombs were defused by the agents assigned to the mission. An encrypted letter revealed that Giovanni Sepe is hiding out or has some sort of base on a remote island in the Spratly Islands. The island in question is Monroe Island located in the tropical region of Southeast Asia. Your mission is to infiltrate the island and capture or eliminate Giovanni Sepe and the Angels of Light organization. The nearest authorities in the region are over two hours away from any direction as the island is still contested by the countries of Vietnam and Malaysia. The Agency has lifted any limitation on casualties for this mission. Rendezvous with your contact at the designated time and place for further details.

MISSION DEBRIEFING:

Mission completed 5:12 pm on 2-21-10. Agents made their way to Monroe Island at dawn and began to infiltrate the well-secured encampment. Finding fierce resistance from island security, the team led by Agent Stavros, overwhelmed their adversaries until a new threat appeared on the scene, which attacked both Agent and island security. The stakes were higher as a unknown new threat was discerned to be a very large biological of some sort. Making their way to key strategic locations and eliminating all human security threats in the immediate area and surrounding buildings, the team stepped into a ambush of what appeared to be some sort of prehistoric biologicals. Upon reestablishing power to the facility's interior buildings, the team stumbled upon a very horrific plot. The Angels of Light organization were using Emus and regressively reengineering them back to possess traits of prehistoric raptors. Deeming them Emuasaurus, they were going to unleash them on the world with horrifying projections. This reengineering process was taken from the stolen "Project Rebirth" project from Cylex Systems that the Agency was investigating on the Hard Wire mission. In search of Giovanni Sepe and having to reestablish four Sensor Arrays on the island to be able to escape the caged facility, the team confronted many more Emuasaurus and eliminated them all. The capture or elimination of Giovanni Sepe was unsuccessful, as Agents did not complete the entire mission. The Agency believes Giovanni Sepe was getting help from someone within the Agency and set plans in motion to determine who this mole was and eliminate the threat. Irrefutable evidence against Agent Exantose sealed his immediate expungement from the Agency.