MISSION BRIEFING:

There is a package containing sensitive materials we cannot risk shipping through normal channels, so we're sending in you to discreetly transport it across the border. Your mission is to retrieve the package from a storage warehouse outside Tijuana and bring it to the Agency facility in Los Angeles. We are tagging your vehicle with a satellite transponder, Code: 303118, which you will attach when you arrive at the pickup location. Further, the package is not to be opened under any circumstances and its contents are not to be disturbed. Use of caution is advised. Good luck.

MISSION DEBRIEFING:

Agent Nitrous rendered unconscious by local street thugs after transporting package across border, Agency recovery team assigned to retrieve package, under mission code name: Grand Theft. Team successful. If Agent Nitrous survives, he will be placed under jurisdiction of agent conduct review board.
