ORGANIZATION BACKGROUND:

It has long been recognized that the effectiveness of any security program, including Green Light, is dependent upon the ability and motivation of those personnel tasked with its implementation. New technologies have increase their potential to uncover the designs of terrorists, criminals and disturbed individuals, however no one will never be able to replace human intuition. Through the provision of training and consultancy services, to educate, advise and inform personnel, organizations and governments of the threat of international terrorism, criminal activity and the actions of desperate individuals who aim to disrupt other's daily lives, Green Light personnel are both security aware and trained in the techniques that will enable them to carry out their duties to the best of their ability.

Governments, airlines and airports around the globe, as well as by private contract security firms have contracted Green Light to examine clusters of criminal activity and threats to air security. Additionally, They are very pleased to be a World Business Partner of the Airports Council International (ACI). Green Light personnel are called upon when professional and unbiased opinion of aviation and ground security issues are sought.

Green Light flight personnel are trained in a variety of courses including Hijack Management, Passenger Profiling, Fraudulent Travel Document Identification, X-ray Image Interpretation and Aviation & Maritime Security Techniques. They also offer Threat Appreciation programs that are designed for diplomats and organizations posting staff overseas.
