ORGANIZATION BACKGROUND:

Peter Sullivan started his company from the ground up in 1996, using his contacts in the business and political world to bring it to prominence very shortly. The company specializes in wide scale distribution of several different commodities, most notably electronic capable fasteners and construction supplies.

SLS has in main offices and warehousing facilities in Belfast, but has branches in Lisburn and Antrim as well. Rumors have floated around since the company's beginning that it was an IRA front, used to filter money. Given the past of its founder these rumors are not without merit, but to date no evidence of such action has been found.
